HWW Conference 2009 Bursary Application

The annual Health Work & Wellness™ Conference is a national one-of-a-kind conference that is held in a different Canadian city each year. Since its inception in 1997, a key goal of the conference has been to provide a Canadian perspective on organizational health. The conference started as a forum for sharing ideas on organizational health among companies across the country and continues to provide the best opportunity to learn how to create the extraordinary – healthy, high-performing organizations.

Each year, individuals from organizations across North America attend this internationally recognized conference. However, we recognize that financial constraints prevent some people from being able to attend.

The Health Work & Wellness™ Conference is pleased to offer two bursary awards to two deserving individuals (including students and professionals who are already in the organizational health field) who want to attend Conference 2009 but require financial assistance.

Two bursaries are available to deserving individuals (including students and those who are already in the organizational health field) to attend the Health Work & Wellness™ Conference 2009. The first bursary includes one complimentary registration and travel & accommodation, compliments of Desjardins Financial Security. The second bursary includes one complimentary registration only. These bursaries do not include pre-conference or post-conference sessions, or special events. These bursaries do not include pre-conference or post-conference sessions, or special events. Both bursaries allow two individuals to attend the full Conference*, on October 1 & 2, 2009 in Gatineau, QC.
